

“We now have a strong and vigilant culture of safeguarding at our school, thanks to The Key Safeguarding.”

Why did you buy The Key Safeguarding for your school?

When I joined the school 4 years ago, they'd been relying on LA briefings - but an Ofsted visit had identified safeguarding gaps and the need to significantly improve safeguarding quickly. One of the first things I did when I joined, was to buy The Key Safeguarding. I had used it at my previous school and so knew that it was the best-quality safeguarding resource on the market and would fill any gaps.

How has The Key Safeguarding benefitted your school?

INSET, sorted

Each year, the INSET pack gives me ALL of the resources I need for INSET, and I know that I'm using the most up-to-date information available so I can trust in what I'm telling people.

Strong and vigilant culture of safeguarding

Ofsted's latest visit concluded that we now have a “strong and vigilant culture of safeguarding”, which just shows how much progress we have made thanks to The Key Safeguarding.

Mental health understanding

Like most schools, we now have a heightened awareness of mental health due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The pupil mental health resources on The Key Safeguarding covering issues like anxiety, depression and self-harm were great for getting staff up to speed on how to spot and deal with these issues.

How do you use The Key Safeguarding?

One of the main resources I use is the absolutely-fantastic INSET pack, which I download and deliver face-to-face to all staff, as I do with the termly briefings. When new staff join the school, they take the pre-training assessments and eLearning courses. On a more regular, weekly basis, I drip-feed the factsheets out via email to staff, thanks to The Key Safeguarding's helpful prompts on awareness days coming up and other key safeguarding events. The parent factsheets are great for helping me to pre-empt issues, as well as react to emerging challenges - and parents have fed back that they also find them very useful.

Would you recommend The Key Safeguarding?

100%, I do recommend it. The Key Safeguarding gets higher-quality, trustworthy content out in response to new emerging safeguarding issues faster than any other provider on the market.
